

In Healdsburg, many of the restaurants, hotels and inns, such as the Haydon Street Inn, above, are offering visitors discounts during the holiday season. — Kathleen Jay/Special to the Examiner

Healdsburg gears up for holidays with discounts

Healdsburg, a charming Sonoma town located 70 miles north of San Francisco, is offering lodging discounts at many of the town's hotels and inns that are packaged with dining discounts at several restaurants.

» Accommodations: From Nov. 15 to Dec. 31, guests can stay at select lodging facilities and receive 20 percent off the rack rate. Properties include All Seasons Vacation Suites, Belle de Jour Inn, Best Western — Dry Creek Inn, Calderwood Inn, Camellia Inn, Grandma's Victorian Cottage, Haydon Street Inn, Healdsburg Inn on the Plaza, Hotel Healdsburg, Irish Rose, Midnight Sun Inn, Piper Street Inn or Bella Villa Messina.

» Restaurants: Guests can also enjoy 15 percent off dinner at one of the following restaurants: Charlie Palmer's Dry Creek Kitchen, Manzanita, Restaurant Charcuterie, Santi's or Zin.

Visitors should inquire when making lodging arrangements of this special discount, as well as verifying with the booking manager on dinner reservations. Package prices for lodging only range from $89 (Best Western — Dry Creek Inn) to $220 (Hotel Healdsburg) per night. Packages are based on availability; taxes are not included.

» Holiday perks: Additionally, when staying at one of the select lodging facilities, free gift wrapping is provided for guests who purchase items at any of the town's shops, including art galleries, boutique clothing stores, hand-crafted jewelry shops, fine furniture, antiques and collectibles, toys and clothing for kids, ceramics, books, shoes, pottery, glass, glassware and toys for pets.

» Information: To learn more, visit www.healdsburg.com or call (707) 433-6935. — Kathleen Jay

kathleen.jjay@gmail.com